Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On September 17, 2018 we completed the acquisition of 100% of the membership interest equity of EOSEDU, LLC, an Arizona limited liability company owned by Daniel and Aleksandra Leis. The transactions contemplated by the purchase were effective as of August 31, 2018. There is no material relationship or other affiliation between the parties to the agreement.

EOSEDU is in the business of providing technology consulting, training, and professional development services to create sustainable programs that integrate technology with curriculum in K-12 schools and districts.

The purchase price paid at closing was 100,000 shares of our Class A common stock. The business formerly conducted by EOSEDU will be operated as a division of our subsidiary Boxlight, Inc. As part of the transaction, Daniel and Aleksandra Leis each received three-year employment agreements with Boxlight, Inc., under which each person shall serve as executives of Boxlight, Inc. at annual base salaries of $121,000 plus a commission equal to 5% of gross revenues derived by Boxlight, Inc. from the services provided from the EOSEDU business to clients of Boxlight, Inc. In addition, Daniel and Aleksandra Leis shall each receive stock options to purchase 16,000 shares of our Class A common stock on each anniversary of their employment, with the first grant commencing on September 17, 2018. The options will vest for a period of four years from the annual grant date. The exercise price at the time of the annual award will be the closing market price of our Class A common stock on the grant date.

Boxlight Announces Acquisition of EOS Education

Purchase Expands Consulting and Professional Development Offerings

LAWRENCEVILLE, GA, September 24, 2018 — Boxlight Corporation (Nasdaq: BOXL), a leading provider of interactive technology solutions for the global education market, today announced it has completed the acquisition of EOS EDUCATION, LLC (“EOS Education”), a consulting and professional development company for the K-12 education market. Boxlight acquired EOS Education for 100,000 shares of Boxlight common stock.

“This addition is part of our continued effort to provide the most comprehensive solution suite in the education technology marketplace,” said Mark Elliott, CEO of Boxlight. “For technology integrations to be successful, teachers need proper training, ongoing professional development and support. By adding the EOS Education team we can immediately fill that need and provide a more robust portfolio of end-to-end services which compliment our hardware and software solutions, giving educators the training they need to fully leverage the technology’s full range of possibilities.”

With the acquisition, it’s expected that Boxlight’s professional services division will produce as much as 10 percent of its total revenues with gross profit margins greater than 50 percent. It also brings significant management talent to Boxlight by adding Daniel Leis and Dr. Aleksandra Leis. Together, with decades of experience managing high-growth professional services businesses in emerging markets and sectors, they will bring an incredible synergy to Boxlight. Daniel will fill the role of Vice President of Global Services for Boxlight while Aleksandra will continue in her role as the CEO of EOS Education, which will now be a wholly owned subsidiary of Boxlight.

“Boxlight and EOS share a common vision of providing the right mix of tools and services to meet the evolving needs of educators and their students. We are excited to build upon the deep relationships Boxlight has with its clients and partners to ultimately deliver long-term value that benefits teachers and students,” said Daniel Leis.

Dr. Aleksandra Leis added, “For years, EOS’ professional development programs have helped improve the effectiveness of teachers and increase engagement of students. Joining Boxlight gives us a pathway to dramatically increase our reach globally and the human and capital resources to continue our mission of supporting teachers as they leverage technology to improve student outcomes.”
